< “Tokyo Global Partner Scholarship Program ” International Student Special Selection >

Under this program, Tokyo Metropolitan University (hereinafter referred to as “TMU”), operated by Tokyo Metropolitan Public University Cooperation and established by Tokyo Metropolitan Government (hereinafter referred to as “TMG”), calls for excellent international students to study at the graduate school of TMU. Scholarship is granted to successful applicants to provide support, for example, in the context of tuition-free enrollment and stipend for living, so that they can focus on their studies and research. This program is being advanced based on the assumption that the revenue and expenditure budgets of Tokyo for 2022 will be approved by March 31, 2022.

1. Number of Students to Be Recruited

Approximately 6 students

2. Eligibility

Applicants eligible to apply for this program must meet each of the following requirements:

- (1) For the master’s course, a person who has completed the 16-year course of school education, has acquired or is expected to acquire a bachelor’s degree, or who has been recognized by the graduate school as having academic ability equivalent to or higher than that of those who have graduated from any Japanese university through individual screening of admission qualifications. The person should also have reached 22 years of age at the time of enrollment.
- (2) Those who fall under any of the following categories: (a) to (b)
  - (a) Those who are enrolled in a research institution such as a university, governmental agency, local governmental agency (hereinafter referred to as “the Institution”), company, etc. and whose main campus, laboratory, or office, etc. is located in Asian countries/regions (*note1) , Sister and Friendship Cities/States of TMG (*note2) , etc., or those who have graduated from or completed an educational course at the Institution less than one year before applying for the program.
  - (b) Those who are enrolled in any of the universities listed in the International Partner Universities/Institutions shown in attached sheet, or those who have graduated from or completed an educational course at international partner universities/institutions less than one year before applying for the program.
- (3) A 2.30 Grade Point Average (GPA) or above, calculated by the following conversion table and formula, is required either in the course at the Institution, an international partner university/institution or a Japanese university enrolled at the time of application, or in the last educational institution attended prior to application. All applicants are expected to maintain a 2.3 GPA or above in the course they are enrolled in during the scholarship period.

Conversion Table

Grading System	Evaluation Scale
	Pattern 1		優 Excellent	良 Good	可 Fair
Pattern 2		A	B	C	F
Pattern 3		100-80	79-70	69-60	59-0
Pattern 4	S	A	B	C	F
Pattern 5	A	B	C	D	F
Pattern 6	100-90	89-80	79-70	69-60	59-0
Grade point	3	3	2	1	0

Formula

$$\{(\text{"Number of credits for grade point 3"} \times 3) + (\text{"number of credits for grade point 2"} \times 2) + (\text{"number of credits for grade point 1"} \times 1) + (\text{"number of credits for grade point 0"} \times 0)\} \div (\text{total number of registered credits})$$

- If the credit system is not applicable for the classes you took, use the number of subjects instead of the number of credits to calculate your GPA.
- If you are a transfer student from one university/institution to another, use the number of credits you gained at the university from which you have transferred. However, also calculate the GPA in the same way as the grades you gained before the transfer (grade point at the university/institution previously enrolled before the present one).
- The subjects for which the grades do not fit the evaluation scale, such as those evaluated as "Pass" or "Approved," must be excluded.
- A fraction in the GPA should be rounded down to the nearest third decimal place.
